WHAT OUR PATIENTS ARE SAYING

“Dr. Khanna is direct and kind. She is the kind of woman who knows herself, and it comes across that she is here for other women winning (in whatever way a win is defined by them). She is a woman’s woman, strong and intelligent and one of the least superficial people I have met in medicine in general. And she’s great at her job. During our consultation, at the time of the procedure and afterward, Dr. Khanna’s communication with me was clear, professional and it was clear she was extremely knowledgeable.”

“OMG! I felt so cared for and safe with Doc Khanna and her team. I felt like I was at the spa (warm gown, slippers & robe) Communication with me 5 star. Attention to detail (information given to me before and after) 5 star. Before and after care 5 star. The finishing touches 5 star. Even flowers from the doctor. It doesn't get any better than that. p.s. I have read most of the 5 star reviews and I totally agree with everyone of them.”

“Dr. Khanna was kind and compassionate! Reassuring, competent and no questions are stupid. Had the best care. She even responded to my post op email personally over the weekend. I really wasn't expecting an answer but she did. So caring and comforting. Felt totally mattered and well looked after. Her team was also attentive and available throughout my journey. Much appreciated.”

What is double board certification?

Board certification requires physicians to demonstrate extensive theoretical and practical knowledge in a narrowly focused area of study. This demands additional years of both classroom study and hands-on experience to demonstrate the physician has mastered a body of material specific to their field. Double board certification means being fully certified with not one but two separate boards.

What is accreditation?

Accreditation is a designation that shows a facilities commitment to upholding the highest standards of safety and care. These facilities operate at, or beyond hospital-quality safety measures and protocols. Facilities undergo rigorous inspections and evaluations to ensure that they meet the necessary requirements.
